IA Definition — Quotes

"Architecture: The art or science of building $[\dots]$ a unifying or coherent form or structure."

-Webster's Dictionary

"Information is data endowed with relevance and purpose."

-Peter Drucker, Economist

"[An IA is] 1) the individual who organizes the patterns inherent in data, making the complex clear; 2) a person who creates the structure or map of information which allows others to find their personal paths to knowledge."

—Richard Saul Wurman, Information Designer
Information Architects

IA Definition — Quotes

"User experience is usefulness (would I use it?) plus usability (could I use it?)?"

—Terry Swack, Razorfish ACIA Conference

"Fundamentally, IA is about creating navigational and organizational structures that put users in touch with the information they need, when they want it."

—Alison Head, Usability Consultant

" I find it hard to shake my sense that information architecture currently represents a collective process more accurately than it describes what any individual does."

—Andrew Dillon, Informatics Prof.
ASIS IA Column

Site Mapping - The Basics

Why:

- To see what we're building, its flow, its high-level complexity
- Helps with scoping—identifying all the pieces
- Identify groupings, organize them, find relationships

Who:

• Information Architect

Sponsor Considerations:

• Some people can't relate to maps ...

Page Wire Framing — The Basics

Why:

- The page-by-page details
- The devil comes out
- Content needs—e.g. instructional
- User Testing

Who:

• Information Architect

Sponsor Considerations:

- No design may=poor quality in their eyes
 - Walk though these with your sponsor!

Site Prototyping — The Basics

Why:

- Think wire frames for each page ... linked together
- User Testing

Who:

• Information Architect

Sponsor Considerations:

- HTML prototype can provide interactive experience
- Quality issue

Discount User Testing — The Basics

Why:

- This is the low-budget version of user testing, so you can test multiple times without a heavy financial burden
- To find the devil, through 'innocent' usage
- To put a site/application through real-world use

Who:

- Information Architect, User Testing Analyst, Receptionist
- Testers, Facilitator and Note Taker

Sponsor Considerations:

- Leverage quotes & results to make proactive changes
- Sometimes you're not doing it for them
- The most powerful tool in the IA tool belt
 - Watch out for leveraging users wrongly
